

The Pleasanton Art League is delighted to have California native Carolyn Lord as our judge for the 2024 John Muir Hospital art exhibit Healing Spaces.

A "plein air" artist since college, Carolyn's early career was influenced by the 20th Century California Watercolor Style of Millard Sheets and his peers which featured bold color and strong design. Her recent watercolors and oils often include aspects of Tonalism and Impressionism. She is inspired by California's vernacular architecture, landscape, and gardens. Lord's paintings can be seen in galleries, in invitational and juried shows. Magazine articles and podcasts highlight her working methods and career.
